

SOCIETY

BY MILDRED REED

Social affairs will not engage much of the attention of Topeka people tomorrow or Christmas day as few plans for Christmas festivities have been announced. The interest of many is centered in charity work, making Christmas happy for children whom Santa Claus might overlook.

The week from Christmas to New Year's promises to be a gay period. Various entertainments are scheduled in compliment to Miss Irene Miller and Mr. John Kenneth Kline, who are to be married New Year's evening, including as guests many of the younger social set of the city. The most prominent of the New Year's receptions will be that of the Woman's club, to be held at the Topeka club the afternoon of New Year's day from 5 to 8 o'clock. Guests will be received by Governor and Mrs. Allen, Dr. and Mrs. W. A. McCarter, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Crosby and Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Estey. Assisting will be Mr. and Mrs. E. Bennett R. What makes you think of green grass, running water and wild flowers? Lucy asked. "I've dodged you way through the crowd," "A fishing rod," "But would a fishing rod satisfy you if you were there?" she asked. "May I be so suggest you to go to the lake?" ventured. "Now you are getting warm. It's a lunch set at Thompson Hardware company, with a vacuum bottle, plates, cups and everything essential for a day in the country, that I've decided to give to Henry."

We bought a box of Hind's fine writing paper at Hall's book store. It is the loveliest sort of linen and comes in a variety of sizes and shades, put up in attractive boxes. The large manila stationery is in favor now.

The accessories of a woman's costume are more important than the principals, according to Lucy. She keeps up on such matters to the extent of being one of the best dressed women I know. She says that the dark cambric has been the salvation of the dark georgette waist. Those at Warren M. Crosby's are beautifully embroidered in rich colors and would make lovely gifts.

The friends that have seen my text-tone pictures are all begging me for one. I had to order another dozen at Topeka's today.

Steel cut and jet beads are successfully combined in an afternoon dress of navy blue georgette over a foundation skirt of navy blue satin at the Parisian. The georgette is striped with the jet beads and the steel cut beads form a wide flower pattern on the front of the waist and around the lower half of the skirt. The georgette is of blue satin finished in a drape effect, extending on the left side to the bottom of the skirt, under which it is fastened. The flowing three-quarter sleeves continue from the waist without the interruption of a seam.

When I think of the number of useless gifts that nobody wants, and that you wouldn't buy for yourself, I want to lead some errand people into Miss Addis' and show them a few practical gifts in the form of wrist watches. There are both silver and gold watches in khaki or leather straps and would please the school boy or girl, business man or woman and the out-of-door girl.

Convention says 'tis proper to give a young girl just books, candy, stationery or flowers, so when Jerry's brother asked me to help him out I suggested flowers. Heoller's loads of wonderful cut flowers—poinsettias, roses and all the rest, but he wanted the most beautiful, very nice, so I suggested American Beauties. I bought a poinsettia plant for our dining room and Lucy some cut flowers and a marvelous hand-colored pottery vase to put them in. She'll have the only Satsuma and Cloisonne vases in the city.

The last gift I bought is the most beautiful and lasting of all—a fine old picture, appropriately framed from the Sullivan Art store.

HELD HIS THRONE Ty Cobb Only King Who Failed to Abdicate.

Remains King of Bat in the American League.

Chicago, Dec. 23.—Ty Cobb was one monarch who didn't abdicate in 1919. His throne as king of swat refused to topple. Batting average of the American league, made public today, showed Tyros out in front with an average of .384.

Murphy, star pinch hitter for the Chicago White Sox, topped the Georgian with a rank of .486 but participated in only thirty games against Cobb's 124.

The White Sox led the league as an organized gang of swatters, their combined average being .287. Detroit, .283 and Cleveland .277 were next in line. Connie Mack's famous experiment squeezed into eighth place with .244.

Others near the top, who played in 100 games or more, were: Veach, Detroit, .355; Sisler, St. Louis, .352; Jackson, Chicago, .351. Gill, Washington, and Knob, St. Louis, preserved unblemished records, each registering .000.

The averages lacked the customary standings of the clubs. Apparently President Ban Johnson did not care to indicate in any way who should have third place money, pending the outcome of the Mack litigation.

AFTER CENTER'S SCALP North, East and South Out After Upstart Gridiron Champs.

Danville, Ky., Dec. 23.—North, east and south will try to beat Centre college's football eleven next year. The 1920 schedule, made public here today, includes dates with Harvard, Ohio State and Georgia Tech, all new opponents.

The schedule follows: September 26, Ohio State at Danville; October 1, University of Virginia at Danville; October 9, open. October 16, Transylvania at Danville; October 23, Harvard at Cambridge; October 30, Georgia Tech at Atlanta; November 6, DePaul at Louisville; November 13, Kentucky State at Lexington; November 20, open; November 27, Georgetown College (Kentucky) at Danville.

Those who enjoyed Miss Loveland in concert in Topeka three years ago, when she was conceded to be a finished singer, were delighted with the added charm and development of her voice, shown in her last night's recital.

The number of her program which brought forth the most enthusiastic praise was "Air de L'air" from "L'Enfant Prodigue," by De Bussy. Altogether it was by far the most difficult of her numbers. Miss Loveland gave it with ease and impressive style. Her dramatic interpretation of this air won the warm approval of the most critical.

Her opening number "Tacea in note placida," from Il Trovatore, was highly pleasing. Of the group of English songs, which naturally found a responsive chord among the greatest number of her hearers, "Longing," by La Forge, was particularly exquisite in tone.

By Ware substituted for the Kreisler cradle song, was beautifully given. The pianissimo notes and tender shading were unusually appealing. "Babylon the Great," by Homer, and her concluding number, "Love's in My Heart," by Woodman, were well received.

Altogether Miss Loveland's voice was lacking in responsiveness and last night's audience seemed to be no exception in the beginning of the program, the feeling gradually and noticeably changed to one of enthusiasm.

At the conclusion of the program her hearers paid Miss Loveland the compliment of insisting upon a final encore. Responding with a negro spiritual, "Rain," she won tremendous applause.

While the extremely well given high notes of Miss Loveland's voice were highly pleasing, her middle and lower register, while of beautiful quality, were not so satisfying. The period of thorough training the artist has experienced was most evident, however, and every number was given in a finished and professional manner.

Frederic Henry Dotterich, head of the piano department of Washburn, was accompanist, proving his extraordinary ability thru the most difficult passages.

WOMAN PIONEER DEAD

Mrs. Emma Bowen Was Resident of Kansas 63 Years.

Emma G. Bowen, wife of F. C. Bowen, county assessor, died early this morning after a lingering illness. Mrs. Bowen was nearly 66 years of age, having been born in Ohio, January 30, 1854. She was a daughter of William and Harriet Boyd, who belonged to that small but valorous army of stout-hearted pioneers who carved the state of Kansas out of a wilderness, the family emigrating to Topeka in March, 1857. A few years later the family moved to Wamego, but after a time returned to Topeka, where the parents resided until their deaths. Mrs. Bowen was a resident of Kansas for nearly sixty-three years, and most of the time lived in Topeka. She had the distinction of being one of the oldest, if not in fact the oldest, member of the Old Settlers' club of Topeka, to which her husband also belonged. The Bowens are one of the best known families of Topeka. F. C. Bowen, himself a pioneer, has been identified with the city and county administrations for thirty-eight years, as principal city assessor or chief deputy for twenty years, previous to his election as county treasurer, and afterwards serving as county assessor, which position he now holds.

In 1872 Emma Boyd married F. C. Bowen. Three children were born of this union: W. F. Bowen, a leading surgeon of the state; Harry J. Bowen, who for years has been in the hardware business here, and a few years ago, after serving as county assessor, afterwards serving as county assessor, which position he now holds.

Interment will be at the Topeka cemetery. The time and place of the funeral services will be announced later.
